MILITARY TRAINING FOR HIGH SCHOOL BOYS

Through the kindness of Col. W. H. Strossman, who has had considerable experience in military affairs, a plan has been set on foot, having in view the training of the boys of the High School and upper grades in elementary military tactics.

It is not the intention of the school authorities to emphasize the military side of the training so much as the development of the boys physically, and to that end there will be "setting up" exercises, or in common parlance, physical culture classes, organized at once and after some degree of proficiency shall have been reached, regular drill will be held, the equipment for same to be furnished by the War Department.

While at Plattsburg, Col. Strossman had a conference with General Wood, of the War Department, who encouraged the idea of giving the boys of high school age the benefits of physical culture. He emphasized the fact that a boy not only could never become a good soldier, but that he could not become a good citizen unless he is "physically fit"—that strong men are needed in time of peace as well as in time of war and that the only way that class of citizenship can be obtained is to train the boys of high school age while they are still susceptible of the highest development.

The students are very grateful to Col. Strossman for his willingness to sacrifice his time for the benefit of the boys and trust that such good results can be obtained that he will feel fully repaid for his services.—High School News.

CHAMPION STALLION

J. Malcolm Forbes, Now Champion Sire of Yearlings and Light Harness Horse.

J. Malcolm Forbes, the great stallion owned by Mr. James R. Magowan, of this county, had seven yearlings to take standard records last Tuesday at a special record meeting held at Lexington. This sire is now the champion five, six, seven, eight and nine-year-old sire and champion sire of yearlings in the world besides having won the Grand Championship for light harness horses at the Madison Square Garden, New York. He is the sire of the half-mile track champion U. Forbes, as well as the sire of Emma Magowan, Labe Riddell, Mary Magowan, Leonard, Alma Forbes, and many other performers that are attracting the attention of the horse world. He is beyond question one of the greatest sires the world has ever seen. He now has twenty-two yearlings in the list, nearly three times as many as his nearest rival, Peter The Great.

Mr. Hunter C. Moody, known as the "King" of the yearling trainers has lost his crown to genial "Doc" Curry who has surpassed the record made by Mr. Moody. Mr. Curry by driving ten colts to standard records last Tuesday put more colts in the list in one day than any other man ever put in in one year. A record of which he may well be proud. Mr. Curry has trained the Magowan horses for the past two years. At the same meeting two colts by Mainleaf, owned by Magowan & Trimble, and one owned by J. R. Thompson, of Chicago, were given standard records. Mr. Magowan was born and has lived in this county all of his life and the news of the successes of his great horse is always received with much gratification by his many friends.

COMBS GETS HEAVY SENTENCE

In Federal Court on Charge of Having Sold Liquor Near Jeffersonville.

James Henry Combs, who was tried and convicted sometime ago in the county court here, by a jury charged with selling liquor in local option territory and who appealed to the circuit court, was tried at Jackson last week before Hon. A. M. J. Cochran, Judge of the United States court and fined $100 and costs and given six months in jail, upon the charge of selling liquor without first having paid the special stamp tax, or without a government license, as it is commonly known.

It will be remembered that Combs conducted a store where John M. Adams formerly did business, beyond Jeffersonville, and it is alleged by local officers that whiskey was sold by Combs to Buford Runyon and that the marked money used by Runyon in the alleged purchase was found upon Combs when arrested.

LOCAL CAPITALISTS MAY BUILD REDRYER PLANT

The Louisville tobacco firm of G. O. Tuck & Co., had a representative here last week trying to interest local capitalists in a proposition to build a redryer plant in this city. As we understand the proposition the company wants the local men to build the plant and they agree to lease same for a term of years, guaranteeing a net profit on the investment of 10 per cent. The warehousemen here think well of the proposition and say it will be an excellent thing for the market here. Those interested have the matter under consideration. The deal would require about thirty thousand dollars.

ASLEEP IN HER LORD

"Gran" Jordan, One of the Oldest and Best Beloved Women in the City, Dead.

Mrs. Lula Jordan, better known to nearly every one in our city and county as "Gran," died at the home of her grand-daughter, Mrs. Lula Barnes, on Main street, this morning at 12:20 o'clock. For many months she had been an invalid and her death while not a surprise, causes universal sorrow and regret. She was a wonderful old lady and had she lived until next Monday would have been 96 years of age. Always of a bright and sunny disposition, looking on the happy side of life, she ever had a word of kindness and cheer for all with whom she came in contact. Not for her our tears, rather let us crown her grave with garlands. Few of us will live as long or as well, and fewer yet will the Angel of Death greet with such loving touch. It must be so—these tender human ties must be broken, yet in death there is no cause for grief. Her life work was done and done well; so wearied with suffering and waiting she has lain down to rest.

For many, many years she was a member of the Christian church and was always happiest when rendering some service in the cause of her Lord and Master. Funeral services will be conducted at the Christian church Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock by Rev. B. W. Trimble, assisted by Rev. Clyde Darsie, with burial in Maplewood cemetery.

WITH PROPER USE OF PAINT

Veranda May Be Made Most Comfortable Resting Place If a Little Chintz Is Added.

For women who live in the country will find that a can or two of paint and a bolt of pretty chintz will do much to transform your porch furniture, says the New York Telegraph. If you have no comfortable chairs for piazza use, do buy one or two. They need not be expensive pieces, but be sure they are comfortable and have pretty lines.

The wicker or reed furniture is really the most attractive for verandas, and it is not at all expensive.

You need not worry if you have two or three pieces of one kind and a couple of pieces of another variety. After you have given them all a coat of the same paint and made chintz-cushioned seats and backs for them, they will look enough alike to fool any casual eye. Besides, no one expects rigid formality in porch decorations.

If your house is white or gray you will find that green porch furniture will look best. Give all the chairs, tables and settees a coat of green paint and one of green enamel paint. The chintz for green furniture should contrast with it, and a figure with a good deal of red in it will be found most effective.

It may be wisest to have a cheap upholsterer make the seat cushions and backs if you are afraid to tackle so tricky a job. Have them made with some white goods as a cover. Then you can yourself make slip covers of the chintz for them. The reason why it is better not to have the chintz put right on as the first cover of the cushions, is because it may soil very quickly, being where the street dust can easily reach it. If the chintz is made into slip covers they can be removed and washed when soiled.

If your house is any other color except white or gray, brown porch furniture is prettiest. So you can paint your furnishings brown and use almost any gayly colored, pretty bright chintz for cushions.

FORCED TO SELL HER HAIR

Minor Tragedy in the Complex Life That Forms Inseparable Part of a Great City.

Her hair was gleaming black. Loosened, it fell like an ink torrent as low as her knees. Dorothy Dare, like Fantine, stepped from Victor Hugo's "Les Miserables," called the pawnbroker's attention to this as she bargained with him in the little shop near Eighth and Main streets.

There being no disputing the fact that the hair did reach her knees, the pawnbroker rejoined as best he could with the counter statement, equally apparent, that Miss Dare was far from being a tall young woman. True, it was nice hair, but true, also, $5 was a nice price.

The bargaining ended with a barber being called from a shop a couple of doors away. Dorothy Dare, twenty years old, with the bloom of the country still on her cheeks, was giving ground before the onslaught of the big city, and the luxuriant black hair was her first concession.—Kansas City Star.

Goulash, a La Actress.

Blanche Yurka, the Bohemian actress, has made a contribution to the "Actors' Cookbooks," which is of value to themselves. She declares that the melange served as Hungarian goulash in restaurants is rarely the genuine article. Her own recipe, which she swears to be infallible, is as follows: "Cut into small squares two pounds of beef taken from the shoulders. Place on frying pan two tablespoonfuls of butter and one large onion, finely minced. When well browned, add the meat. Salt to taste; add four cloves, eight kernels allspice, a slice of lemon, one bay leaf, two tablespoonfuls of vinegar, and one tablespoonful of sugar. Cover and stew slowly. When meat is tender, dust with one tablespoonful of flour, add a little water, two tablespoonfuls of tomato catchup, and a pinch of paprika. Mix thoroughly, let it boil over and serve with minced brown potatoes."

Music Was Upside Down.

Laughter trickled through the auditorium of the First Christian church at Alexandria during a program given by the children of the church. One little girl who was very anxious to fill her part on the program wished everybody to know that she had learned her music well and when playing on the piano she frequently turned from side to side to look at the audience. When about half way through the number she stopped with reluctance. She had forgotten part of the piano number, and on close observation discovered that the music sheet was upside down on the music rack. While the audience waited the little girl turned the sheet.—Indianapolis News.

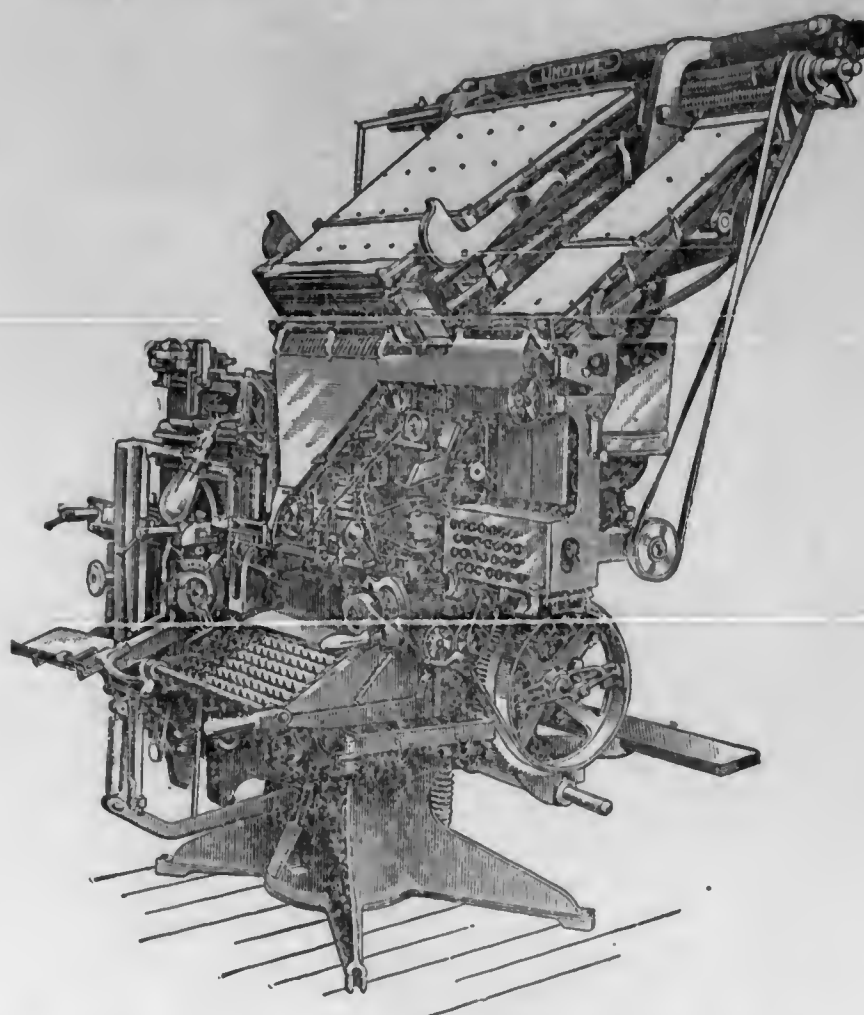

Legend of the French Poppy.

During the early stages of the present war a strange phenomenon on the battlefields of northern France was the abundance of poppies, all the roads being bordered by large tracts of the red flowers, which gave the impression that the bloodshed there had come forth to the surface once more. In any case this is the popular belief among the peasants of the districts where battles raged only some months ago; but the real explanation is that the poppy is the companion of wheat in France, just as the bluebell mingles with the corn in Russia, and that the poppy has usurped all the space.

A THOUGHT

Hearts that are great bent never loud,
They muffle their music when they come,
They hurry away from the thronging crowd
With banded brows and lips half dumb.
And the world looks on and mutters—"Proud."
And when great hearts have passed away,
Men gather in awe and kiss their shroud
And in love kneel around their clay,
Hearts that are great are always alone,
They never manifest their best;
Their greatest greatness is unknown—
Earth knows a little—God the rest.

For those who are in need of a remedy for kidney troubles and backache, it is a good plan to try Doan's Kidney Pills. They are strongly recommended by Mt. Sterling people.

OVER EIGHT YEARS LATER, Mr. Greene said: "Doan's Kidney Pills always did me so much good that I am glad to speak in their praise every time I can."

THE LESSON OF THE STRIKE

There is a lesson in the proposed great railroad strike which it would be well for us as a nation to learn, and to profit by.

Probably a very small per cent. of the membership of the brotherhoods, when they voted on the proposition to strike, had ever given serious thought to the far-reaching effects of their action should it come to an actual walkout. The same can be said of the citizenship of the country at large. Strikes had been of so frequent occurrence during the past half century, and the business of the country had suffered such small checks therefrom, that we had been lulled into a false sense of security.

In the great crisis, which has been for a time averted, however, the country has at least awakened to the enormous power of organized labor. But even now we would not be fully alive to this great power had it not been threatening the very life of the nation.

Few of the masses of the people had ever realized how fully were the railroads the arteries through which coursed the commercial life blood of the nation. Not until we were threatened with a stoppage of that life giving stream did we awaken to the dire peril which such action portended. Only within the past few weeks have we begun to appreciate the extent of the want, the suffering, the colossal losses that must have inevitably resulted had the strike materialized.

But now that we are at last awake to the real significance of the situation that confronts us, we should profit by our knowledge. We should see to it at once that no similar peril is ever again permitted to threaten us.

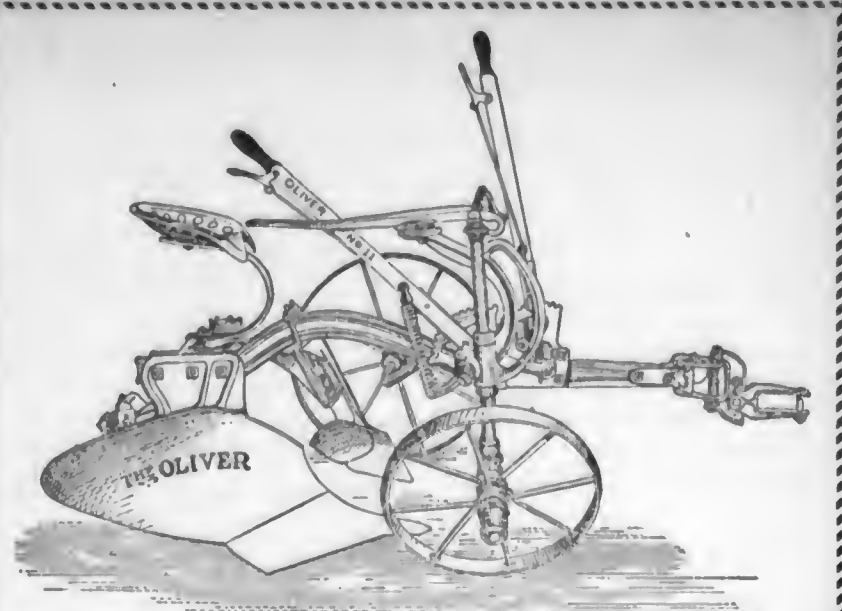

We must recognize the fact that the railroads are an absolute necessity to national life; that it is now a moral and patriotic duty incumbent upon not only the managers, but upon the employees as well, to keep the roads in operation.

Yes, we know all about the rights of labor, and of that proud boast that we are all free born American citizens. But when a small per cent. of the people, either as managers or as operatives, have reached the point when the life of the nation is absolutely at their mercy, then that small per cent. ceases to be free in the full sense of the word. They are bound to a higher duty than self interest. They are in bondage to the great cause of universal humanity. They have made themselves absolutely necessary to their fellows and are NOT free to follow their own inclinations. They have become a part of the machinery that moves a nation, and must bear the responsibilities that accompany the position.

We must realize that for the railroad man to quit his post (unless a competent substitute is at hand to assume his duties) is just as reprehensible as a violation of train orders and fraught with as great peril to the public safety. The railroader must be brought to see that he owes a sacred duty to his country, not even second to that of the soldier. The soldier guards our homes and our honor; the railroader guards our very life. He should not destroy that which he guards.

A united nation should insist that these men who thus bear the burdens of our comfort, prosperity and safety shall be fairly dealt with. The thousands of men who daily and hourly expose their lives to the perils of the rails that we may prosper and live in comfort should have the full weight of our influence and sympathy toward securing a fair deal. The roads should be made to feel that an injustice to them is an affront to the nation. And, likewise, the employees should be made to realize that to throttle the roads is to crucify the nation which every honest American loves.

Can this be done without government action? Possibly not. But if such action should be necessary,

Come in and see the new addition to the Oliver Family. This plow will work anywhere an ordinary breaking plow will, and if you have a field you want to break deep or if you have any filthy ground that you want turned this is just the plow you want. It cuts 14 inches and with three horses you can plow almost twice as much as an ordinary plow can in a day. Let us show it to you, or what is better, let us demonstrate it in your field.

then the sooner it comes the better. Another such period of tension and uncertainty will work untold harm to our country.

IT MUST NOT COME!

With the tremendous amount of brains in evidence in this country it is passing strange that we can not marshal sufficient inventive genius to manufacture our own dye stuffs and other commodities that are cut off by the war in Europe. We are a great people in some respects, but pigmies in others.

We heartily wish every family in this community owned an automobile. Then, perhaps, we might hope for good roads.

Six things are requisite to create a happy home. Integrity must be the architect and tidiness the upholsterer. It must be warmed by affection and lighted up with cheerfulness. Industry must be the ventilator, renewing the atmosphere and bringing in fresh salubrity every day; while over all, a protective canopy of glory, and nothing will suffice except the blessing of God.

Begin giving your hogs this medicine now and keep them free from worms and disease. At All Druggists.

BOURBON REMEDY COMPANY, Lexington, Ky.

Sold in Mt. Sterling by Bassett Drug Co.

SYSTEMATIZE

Your household expenses by opening a bank account for your wife. Give her a check book and teach her the use of it. Pay the butcher, the grocer, the baker, with a check. Then at the end of the month you'll find out just how much it costs you to run the home. When payment by check is made there never is any doubt as to whether or not a bill is paid. The check is a receipt.

Besides, a checking account will give your wife a business education. The number of ordinarily bright women who know absolutely nothing of banking is surprising. If you are a husband, father, brother, you cannot tell when death may overtake you, and it is well that your wife, daughter and sister know something of banking.

NONPARTISAN PATRIOTISM

If I permitted myself to be a partisan in this present struggle I would be unworthy to represent you. If I permitted myself to forget the people who are not partisans I would be unworthy to represent you. I am not saying that I am worthy to represent you, but I do claim this degree of worthiness, that before everything else I love America.—Woodrow Wilson to Associated Press meeting, New York, April 20, 1915.

THE TREND

No one can deny that normally the country is largely Republican. Mr. Wilson, at the last election, received many thousands of votes less than Mr. Brynn did, at the previous presidential election, yet, due to the presence of a Progressive ticket in the field, was returned a winner.

These, however, are not normal times and precedents are deceiving. Thousands of leading Progressives and Republicans, who approve the matchless administration of the President and think a change unwise, are daily announcing their intention of forsaking their party and voting to sustain him in their country's hour of greatest need for a truly great man. On the other hand, we have never yet seen where a leading Democrat has announced his preference for Mr. Hughes, hence we say the trend is decidedly in favor of Mr. Wilson.

The money powers, however, who want what they call a "safe" man, such as Mr. Hughes proved himself to be when he vetoed the two-cent fare bill, as Governor of New York and did so many other things at the behest of the corporate interests, are furnishing the finances necessary to make an effective campaign for the Republican party. This fact alone makes the fight a dangerous one. Then again, over-confidence has defeated many a man and every voter who loves this country more than he does the Kaiser or any foreign land, should take his place under the banner of Woodrow Wilson on November 7th, and vote for peace, prosperity and preparedness.

THE PATROL SYSTEM

High-class roads constructed under the State Aid system may be compared to a new suit of clothes. They look well and give promise of wearing well in the outset. But if there should come a rent or rip in the clothing that is not attended to at once, that rent or rip soon becomes a very important factor in the deterioration and usefulness of the garment. "A stitch in time save nine" and if the rent or rip is remedied at once the life and good appearance of the suit of clothes is prolonged. The same thing applies to the roads. The patrol system is wise and right. Let the rips and rents in them be attended to as soon as they appear, and the life of the goodness of the roads will be prolonged. Let the patrol system prevail, by all means.—Shelby Record.

At the present rate, our new asphalt streets now under construction, ought to be completed by January 1, 1918, if we have luck.

HOW HAVE THE MIGHTY FALLEN?

It is stated on unquestionable authority that the leaders have decided that under no circumstances will they permit Col. Roosevelt to speak in Ohio, where there is a large German element, as they do not want them to be offended by his rapid attack on those who hold the Fatherland in greater love than they do their adopted country. Those who know the manner of man the Colonel is rather suspect, however, that if he decides to speak in Ohio, neither the Republican Campaign Committee nor all blades can prevent him. The decision nevertheless emphasizes the fact that the house is divided against itself with Hughes singing as softly as possible in the matter and the Colonel rip snorting against the American subjects of the Kaiser. The one is seeking the support of the disloyalists, while the other is driving them away. The Colonel won't subordinate his courage to discretion even to please the bosses and they will try to relegate him to the rear. While Mr. Hughes is coddling to the Kaiserites, Mr. Wilson defies them and says he neither courts their favor nor fears their displeasure. The Republican candidate may prate all he wants to about Americanism, but he does not fool anybody as long as he consorts with those disloyal to it. The election of Mr. Hughes will be a victory for the Kaiser. The election of Wilson will be a triumph for Americans and their cherished ideals. Choose ye this day whom ye will serve.

MONTGOMERY COUNTY AT THE CONVENTION

About twelve hundred members of the Christian churches of Kentucky gathered in Winchester last week in their annual convention. Seventy-five of this number were from Montgomery county, all of whom report a splendid time.

Montgomery county carried her share of the honors during the convention. The banner given to the county whose Sunday Schools reached most nearly the highest standard of efficiency was carried off by J. T. Coons, County President of Montgomery. The average percentage of efficiency was 96.2-3.

The Mission Band of the First Christian church of this city was reported as the best amongst the Christian churches of the State. Great credit is due Mrs. George R. Snyder for the leadership that has made this work so great a success.

It was reported that amongst the colored Christian churches of the country the largest men's and also the largest women's Bible classes were to be found in the Mt. Sterling church.

Rev. B. W. Trimble was re-elected Recording Secretary of the State Missionary Convention after a period of many years of faithful service in that position. Rev. Clyde Darsie, Minister of the Mt. Sterling church, was elected President of the State Bible School Association for the coming year. Breckinridge Horton, of Spencer neighborhood, made a fine address at the Bible School banquet Thursday evening. Mr. J. T. Coons spoke interestingly at the conference of county officers. The representatives from this county came home happy and full of honors and determination to make the record of the coming year even a better one than has been made during 1915-1916.

Notice!

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Burley Tobacco Co., will be held at our warehouse on South Broadway, Lexington, Ky., October 10, 1916, at ten o'clock a. m. Burley Tobacco Company. (13-21) John W. Hall, Secretary.

RELIGIOUS

The Ladies Aid Society of the Baptist church will have their Christmas bazaar the 15th and 16th and a Court Day dinner on the 18th of December.

The increase in the Baptist Sunday School on last Sunday morning was gratifying and a larger attendance is expected next Sunday, it being our first day to use our entire new building.

If no providential hindrance the Baptist congregation will occupy the main auditorium of their new building Sunday morning and evening. There will be special music at each service. Every member is urged to be present and all friends and neighbors who see fit to be present will be welcome.

Rally Day and Promotion Exercises

A most successful Rally Day was observed last Sunday at the Christian church. This fall festival of the Bible School is always a happy event, but the one this year was unusually so. The school showed a fine attendance, including 42 in the Beginners' Department, 184 in Trimble's Loyol Women's class and 172 in the Hazelrigg Bible lass. The total attendance was 580.

For the most part the regular program of the school was carried out. The Minister made a short report of the Winchester convention and gave the address of welcome. Mrs. Loring Z. Turley sang a most enjoyable solo. The decorations were particularly beautiful and appropriate.

In the evening the regular promotion exercises of the school were held. This school differs from many other schools of the community in using the Graded Lessons. While in many schools all the school studies the same Bible selection, in the Christian Bible School the lessons are especially chosen for the needs of the different ages. Consequently there is a time for completing a definite course of study. And when the pupil has completed the course prescribed for each separate department, recognition of the work done is given in the form of a graduation certificate. Something over forty certificates were awarded these graduates Sunday night.

The exercises were full of interest, pupils in each department taking their parts well. Some of the exercises made the "grown-ups" in the audience wonder if they knew as much about the Bible as the children. The church was filled with an interested congregation, all of whom voted the Promotion Exercises a great success. Much credit is due W. H. Strossman, the efficient Superintendent of the School, and his corps of efficient helpers and teachers for an unusually successful and useful year's work, culminating in Sunday night's exercises.

ONLY FAIR CROWD PRESENT

A crowd of about two hundred heard Hon. E. P. Morrow at the Court House last Wednesday. Mr. Morrow attacked the Democratic administration but his eloquence failed to arouse the enthusiasm expected. It seems that the country is satisfied with President Woodrow Wilson's administration and unless all signs fail he will be given their endorsement at the November election.

MERCHANTS, TRY THIS

If some live merchant will spend an hour or two some evening with his store blinds drawn and install a handsome and attractive window display, something unique and out of the ordinary, and then advertise it in this paper, we venture the prediction that at least half of the people in this community will be around to see it. And many of them will buy just because they happen to be there. Advertising will get the people to a store that is worth going to, but the merchant and his own goods must do the selling. Step up, gentlemen. What merchant in this town wants the people to beat a path to his store?

WANTS EVERYTHING WET

Our old boyhood playmate, Col. Mervin Maus, lost out as Secretary of the Tuberculosis Commission because he favored temperance as an aid against tuberculosis. This was sufficient for the Governor to go after his scalp. — Elizabethtown News.

The young wife, thinking sadly of the days when her lover brought her candy, should take comfort in the thought that her husband is bringing her beef and bacon, which is more filling.

There is only one real excuse for war, and that is peace.

CALLED GATE OF THE SAHARA

City of Tripoli is for Many Reasons Well Worth a Visit From the Traveler.

Tripoli is the last of the great old trading ports where the desert meets the sea. She is the hub of a sprawling wheel, whose spokes are caravan routes striking through the great Sahara and shipping lines that radiate over the Mediterranean.

Ships steam into the harbor cautiously, feeling their way behind the protecting crescent headland that shuts out gales from the north, for the water is shallow and studded with sand bars. To the right the old city rises from the water's edge in a series of green terraces, where the homes of the wealthy stand in their gardens. To the left is the Mohammedan quarter, with its domes and minarets.

The heart of Tripoli is in the mosques, the beauty of Tripoli in the oases and the explanation of Tripoli in the great market. There you see a motley concourse of traders from all northern Africa—Arabs, Turks, Italians, Egyptians, Negroes, Jews. They sit or stand by their stacked wares and bicker after the custom of the immediate East, where time is no object and conversation with all and sundry one of the pleasures of life.

Tripoli has two of the finest mosques in Africa, but the admission of Christians is not encouraged. It is worth all the trouble, however, and all the black looks you will get from the loungers at the gateways to see the Grand Mosque. It is arranged with the simplicity that characterizes the temples of Islam—a bare court, a niche toward Mecca, a latticed booth for the women, and the sultan's box—but the proportions, the sweep of the flanking archways that end sharply against sheer tiled walls, are beautifully restful and harmonious.

There is a mild thrill of adventure in penetrating thus into the sacred place of a hostile race and creed. There is a new sensation, too, in feeling that the very touch of your foot is regarded by many of those who watch you as a sacrilege and a defilement.

FIND NEW VENOMOUS SNAKE

Reptile Has Proved to Be "Considerable of a Puzzle" to California Naturalists.

A poisonous snake that reptile experts and naturalists have so far been unable to classify, and which may be of a new species, came into the possession of Ed Hamby and Jack Horn. The snake was caught by a Mexican at one of the road camps near Los Angeles, Cal.

The snake has two fangs, each about one-eighth of an inch long. In an effort to determine whether or not the reptile is poisonous it was placed in an inclosure with a white rat. The rat was bitten and died in convulsions shortly afterward.

The snake is three and one-half feet in length and olive green in color. Its color changes to a pale yellow when it is angered and light brown markings appear upon its back. Contrary to other venomous snakes, it has the double set of scales that are found on harmless varieties. The scales are smooth and it has extraordinarily long jawbones. Its eyes are the round-pupiled eyes of the harmless snake, and it has only one set of nostrils. Its head is of the same shape as its harmless brothers. Its tail tapers to a fine point and the snake itself differs in shape from other poisonous reptiles in that it is slender rather than thick-bodied.

It strikes without coiling and moves with great swiftness. While being examined it ejected a stream of colorless poison for a distance of 17 inches.

Dr. Charles L. Edwards, naturalist for the public schools, inclines to the belief that it may be related to the vipers. "Until this time I have never known of a smooth-scaled snake which was poisonous," he said.

How German Army Horses Are Dyed.

Because of the shortage of horses in Germany it has been found expedient to dye white and dappled horses a field-gray, as already noted in Popular Mechanics Magazine, thereby giving them the same protective coloring as the soldiers' uniforms and making them available for military purposes. The coloring when first applied gives the horse a violet hue, which later changes into greenish-brown by reason of the chemical action of the sweat retained in the hair. A staff apothecary of the German army has found that the best dye is a 1 per cent solution of permanganate of potassium. This is applied to the head, legs, and upper part of the body with a brush and to the more sensitive parts with a sponge. The coloring is permanent, harmless, and costs about 50 cents per horse. — Popular Mechanics Magazine.

Church Service Sent Over Wire.

A large church in Passaic, N. J., has put one of the ideas of the late Edward Bellamy, author of "Looking Backward," into practical effect. It has recently connected a telephone with the house of one of its oldest members, an old lady now physically unable to reach the church which she had attended regularly for over half a century. A special telephone transmitter is placed on the pulpit and the connections are so well arranged that it is possible for a number of persons, grouped around the receiver, to hear not only the sermon, but every sound of the church music in a house over a mile from the church.

Public Sale

—OF—

Three Blue Grass Farms

In Montgomery County, Kentucky

As Executors of John R. Thomas' will, the undersigned will sell at Public Auction, on Monday, October 16, 1916

(County Court Day) at about one o'clock, at the Court House door, in Mt. Sterling, Ky., three farms, to-wit:

FIRST: The Roger Gatewood farm, containing about 110 acres, on the Spencer turnpike about 2½ miles from Mt. Sterling. The land is part of the original J. S. Gatewood farm, lying on the Mt. Sterling side of the Gatewood home, is in excellent condition, beautifully situated and can all be cultivated. At present it is all in grass except about 4 acres. Every acre will raise tobacco. Frame dwelling, good stock barn and other improvements. Within ½ mile of church and school.

SECOND: The Henry C. Graves farm of about 187 acres, about 7½ miles from Mt. Sterling, on the Howards Mill turnpike, the residence of the late John R. Thomas. The farm is in good condition and is well watered by Slate Creek and fine springs. The land is of good quality, much of which will raise tobacco. About 40 acres are in cultivation, the remainder in meadow and grass. The improvements consist of a splendid two-story frame dwelling of about 10 rooms; large combination tobacco and stock barn, crib, cabin, meathouse, buggy house and other outbuildings, all in good repair. The residence and barn are supplied with water from the famous cold spring on the hill-top by means of a hydraulic ram. This is one of the most delightful homes in the county.

THIRD: A farm containing about 90 acres on Slate Creek, adjoining the Jacob See and Howard Howell lands, and near the Howards Mill turnpike. The said Howell land lies between this and the Graves farm described above. A small strip of land for a roadway to the pike belongs to this 90 acre farm. About 25 acres of it are in cultivation, the remainder in grass. It is well watered by Slate Creek and springs; a large part will raise tobacco; about 25 acres of Slate Creek bottom land.

These farms will be sold separately, and subject to survey at purchaser's expense, if he desires survey, each to the highest bidder, on terms of one-third cash, one-third in one year and one-third in two years, with interest on the deferred payments and liens on the lands to secure same. Further details will be given at time of sale. For further information call or address

W. A. SAMUELS,
12-3t Master Commissioner M. C. C.

A man who has made a happy home for his wife and children, no matter what he has not done in the way of achieving wealth and honor; if he has done that he is a grand success. If he has not done that, and it is his own fault, though he be the highest in the land, he is a most pitiable failure. We wonder how many men in a mad pursuit of gold, which characterizes the age, realize that there is no fortune which can be left to their families as great as the memory of a happy home.

Mexican authorities insist that Carranza has restored order and is enforcing law in that country. Of course. And we expect soon to hear that Villa is teaching a Sunday school class.

One great trouble with us is our wastefulness in our daily lives, in our homes, in our business occupations. We have never learned the lesson of economy. Money comes easy with us, and it flows out just as easily. Where other people in other countries stop to count the pennies, we only count the dollars. If we as a people could only acquire the habit of systematically slicing off a penny here, another there, and keep it up in every avenue of our existence, the American people in the course of a few years would be literally rolling in wealth, whereas now a majority of us labor right up to the brink of the grave in order to live and support our families in comparative comfort. Any intelligent person can make money in this country, but only a wise one can save it.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure.

The national guard

For defense against invasion, our real national guard is the millions of stalwart, young Americans in all walks of life, who must respond to their country's call for training and service in the ranks of our army and navy. For defense against invasion of the elements CERTAIN-TEED Roofing is the real "national guard".

Certain-teed Roofing protects our buildings from the violence of storms; successfully resists the attacks of rain, hail, sleet and snow; is unaffected by the sharp assaults of frost, and the withering fire of mid-summer sun. It even withstands the ravages of time, for CERTAIN-TEED Roofing is guaranteed for 5, 10 or 15 years, according to ply (1, 2 or 3). Experience proves that it will out-last the period of guarantee.

The long life of CERTAIN-TEED is due to the fact that it does not dry out, as ordinary roofing does. This is because it is made of the best quality roofing felt, thoroughly saturated with a blend of soft asphalts—the formula of the General's Board of Expert Chemists. This soft saturation is then covered with a coating of a harder blend of asphalts, which prevents the drying-out process, and keeps CERTAIN-TEED impervious to the elements for years after the harder, drier kinds of roofing have dried out and gone.

CERTAIN-TEED is made in rolls; also in slate-surfaced shingles. There is a type of CERTAIN-TEED Roofing for every kind of building, with flat or pitched roofs, from the largest sky-scraper to the smallest residence or out-building.

CERTAIN-TEED is sold by responsible dealers all over the world, at reasonable prices. Investigate it before you decide on any type of roof.

A SUBJECT FOR DEBATE

Has a woman a right to make a fool of herself if a man does? This would make a good subject for debating societies. A man will stay around nights, visit the gambling dens, play poker and lose money that he ought to spend for the comfort of his family. At the same time the wife is staying home, sitting by a cheerless fire and taking care of a number of children that she has only a half-interest in. The man will visit the saloon, smoke cigars, play the wheels, drink poor whisky, and occasionally go and play with the girls that are not of his own family, while his wife is home trying to save money for the family by patching, darning and going without things for herself and the house. A man at the same time will go out with the boys and spend $25. Is it right? Suppose we turn the tables around and his wife commences to play the fool, for you call it nothing else, and what will happen? Supposing the wife takes a notion to have a little time of her own. Let her go to the bowling alley, the billiard hall, the saloon. Go off to a convention or some other place with a lot of gay girls and have a good time, spend the money that ought to go toward paying expenses, smoke cigarettes, drink seven different kinds of booze and come home with a bad taste in her mouth and in a general stained condition, wouldn't it break every link that binds the Home Circle together? Morally she has just as much right as a man to do these things. She has just as good a right to be a fool as a man, but what would happen if she should? It is easy enough to guess. There would be a divorce and other things too numerous to mention.

A DECIDING QUESTION

Let every farmer, every other business man, ask himself this question:

"Where now is the seat of financial authority in the United States located: in Wall Street in the offices of the magnates of high finance, or in Washington in the National Government?"

Also—Where does he want it located?

NATION IN "DRY DOCK"
BY 1920, SAYS WHEELER

Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel of the Anti-Saloon League of America, speaking, said that a "dry nation" is now assured and asserted that an amendment for national prohibition will be passed by Congress for reference to states before 1920 and that the "ship of state" will be in dry dock within five years thereafter.

The last twelve months, Mr. Wheeler said, marked the largest gains for prohibition in history. He pointed out that in eight states prohibition laws have gone into effect since January. With a population of more than 11,000,000 affected therein. Sub-division in other states with a population of more than 1,000,000 have abolished saloons, he stated, while Norway and Roumanian have gone "dry" within two months, most of Canada is without saloons and indications are that several other states will adopt prohibition laws this year.

CLIPPINGS FROM THE SNAGTOWN TORCHLIGHT

Last Sunday old Charley Ewell marked a quarter and put it in the collection plate at the Church for Foreign Missions, and Tuesday morning it came back to his store. In conversation with a representative of the Torchlight, he said: "I always knowed them Heathens never got the money you collect for them."

Farmer Al Williams, one of our important citizens, is at present enjoying a good deal of funne on account of the success he has met with in conducting his farm on a condensed scale. At the beginning of spring he took this notion and put the idea into immediate use by drawing in the fences on his farm, making it only one-third the original size. He then put in to raising just a few large things instead of so many small ones. For instance, instead of growing a big pile of small potatoes, he decided to plant only one potato and bestow upon it the same amount of attention and hard work. As a result he has a potato that is so large it has raised one corner of his house about fifty yards away.

The Snagtown Improvement Society should take opportunity by the mane and tail and remove from in front of the postoffice that large mud hole, while it is dry. There is plenty of room for this objectionable eyesore elsewhere, and it could be removed with very little trouble. Captain John Plunkett (who is us) owns the ground right over the fence, and he has agreed to let it be put there, if the citizens will act at once.

The large amount of quinine that H. C. Denton has been taking has caused a roaring in his ears that makes him fear that a storm is approaching. He has fastened up all his young chickens, and will remain in his cistern, which he uses for a storm cellar, until it is over. Skinny Elliston and George Bean engaged in a shooting affray near the Pigeon Gush graveyard yesterday morning. Just before the difficulty took place a jury was summoned to witness the affair, so that there would be no conflicting testimony at the trial.

The Gimlet Creek saw-mill was closed yesterday indefinitely. This is on account of the engine getting beyond the control of J. F. Cross, the engineer, and running into the creek, taking the saw-mill with it.

Old Charley Ewell has nailed barbed wire on his goods boxes in front of his store to keep the loafers from whittling them up.

One of the geese belonging to Ralph Lynch took to her nest this morning to lay, and Ralph has ordered that all noise in that vicinity cease until she is ready to come off.

The Republicans have rung the changes on "Words Not Deeds," "Weasel Words," "Watchful Waiting," "Base Inaction," "Dishonorable Patience," and the like.

But after one month of Hughes' campaigning the cry is changed. It is, "The Rule of Force Now." Action, inaction, re-action are or would be all the same to them—matter for abuse. But they have never yet accused Wilson of re-action. Are they afraid to use the word?
